"This is an exciting opportunity for the city of Pullman to share its story locally, nationally and even internationally with those who want to learn more about what Pullman has to offer," says Mayor Johnson. "It can benefit families and retirees, new and existing businesses, and even new residents. We hope it will bring more economic vitality to the entire community, and help to spread the good news that Pullman is a great place to live, work and enjoy a great quality of life."

The videos are provided at no cost to city government. Thanks to the generous sponsorship of community groups and area businesses, CGI Communications will produce several video chapters highlighting education, economic development, and relocation. The Rochester, New York-based company works in partnership with the United States Conference of Mayors and numerous municipal leagues.

Through CGI's patented OneClick™ technology, an Internet user with any type of media player can easily access the videos, and e-mail them directly to an individual or to a group of e-mail addresses.
